Nexans awarded Best Medium OEM Supplier 2014 by Fokker Elmo

Paris, July 17, 2015 – For the second year in a row, Nexans' team in Morocco has received recognition for its outstanding performance from aerospace equipment manufacturer, Fokker Elmo. Nexans received the award during the Paris Air Show in June 2015 as a result of the partnership between Fokker and Nexans on Airbus projects.

"To win this award again is truly remarkable," said Fabien Bouvier, Aerospace Defense Sales Manager at Nexans, "We at Nexans are proud of the work we have accomplished with Fokker Elmo, and are looking forward to the future."

Nexans provides Fokker with over 2300 km of cables a year as well as wires and cables for Airbus projects. This excellent delivery in quality combined with the higher level of OTIF (On-Time-In-Full) has allowed Nexans to surpass 20 other competing suppliers, winning this award.

Through this close partnership, Nexans and Fokker are well positioned to collaborate on future aeronautical projects and upcoming Airbus projects.
